Make the commitment to check-in. Making it a point to check in on kids' daily mental health gives them a window of opportunity to ask for help if or when they need it.

William P. French, MD, DFAACAP
Associate Professor | Psychiatry & Behavioral Medicine
University of Washington

hiprc.org/suicide-prevention-month