

HARBORVIEW INJURY PREVENTION
& RESEARCH CENTER
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

RTL

Return-to-Learn Implementation for Schools Everywhere

What is RTL?

Return-to-Learn (RTL) is AN EFFICIENT comprehensive program THAT ANY HIGH SCHOOL CAN IMPLEMENT. The RTL Program coordinates care between physicians, parents, and school administrators to offer best practice academic accommodations to help students return to their full classroom capacity.

Who can implement RTL?

Any High School (nationwide) can implement RTL in their school.

How can RTL be used?

It can be used
at high schools
of varying size & location

It can be used to lower variation & inequities in concussion care

It can provide academic accommodations

Where can I get more information?

Contact the Harborview Injury Prevention & Research Center: rtluw@uw.edu

hiprc.org